

Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 15 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy and breezy for Tuesday turning wet later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry and generally cloudy evening with some clear spells possible in the east. Winds strengthening overnight with a risk of coastal gales, whilst rain pushes eastwards and spreads across the country. Rather mild. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Cloudy and dry start for most before a band of heavy rain arrives to western areas and spreads across the country. Turning drier with clear spells for later. Breezy throughout. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Dry with sunny intervals to start for Wednesday, followed by blustery showers locally heavy. Generally dry with scattered showers on Thursday and further rain for Friday. Mild and windy throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.